The Roundtables concept

Background on Roundtables

The Health Roundtable was started by an American psychologist, David Dean, in Australia. It has a membership of 150 hospitals in Australia and New Zealand.

See: www.healthroundtable.org

The process

PRE-SESSION

ROUND TABLE SESSION

BEST PRACTICES

POST-SESSION

Possible topics:

- Avoiding delayed discharges.
- Avoiding hospital admissions for ambulatory care sensitive conditions.
- Avoiding readmissions - safely discharging patients sooner.
- Balancing emergency and elective throughput.
- Comparisons of costs of procedures.
- Data collections/movement. How often does data get captured anew?
- How do we relate to the patient vs patient satisfaction and outcomes?
- Keeping the hospital safe at night.
- Etc....

The benefits are:

- We learn from each other and are autonomous.
- We can learn from what each of us is doing well.
- There is no blame. This is about self-awareness and discovery.
- Data are collected for finding innovations, not for setting accountability.
- There are no imposed demands. This is about health practitioners and administrators making the best choices available.
- We develop an innovative culture. We are rewarded in for trying new/better.
- There is no centralized knowledge authority
- Better decisions about what to KEEP, what to ABANDON and what to REINVENT
